OLD-FASHIONED PARTY. Quite a unique party was given Tuesday afternoon by the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church in honor of the senior Philadelphians, at the home of Mrs. W. H. Simmons on North Main street. This being an old-fashioned hard time party, invitations were issued in these words: Come in rags and come in tags. But not in silken gowns. We'll meet you in the same array. And hope to see you blithe and gay. Next Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. So at our door we hope you'll knock.

All present entered into the spirit of the occasion. Mrs. W. T. Grandall and Mrs. C. M. Cummings received the guests. The main feature of the afternoon was an old-fashioned dance in which Mrs. Leffler DeLoach and Mrs. C. M. Cummings were the actors. The modern dance was given by Mrs. R. G. Mikell and Mrs. G. N. Williams. Mrs. Grandall in her most charming manner sang several songs, to which Mrs. J. L. E. class joining in on the choruses. Before departing, ginger snaps and clabber sweetened with syrup were served, followed by an ice cream.

CARSWELL SEVERELY RAPS HIGHWAY BOARD

HE OPENLY CHARGES MEMBERS WITH WASTE AND EXTRAVAGANCE OF FUNDS.

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 5.—The State Highway Board, "as operated today" has become perverted into the most dangerous political machine ever turned loose on a state, declared Geo. H. Carswell of Irwinton, candidate for governor, in an Independence Day address here today.

"Waste and extravagance run riot," he said. "Jobs are created for designing politicians. Thousands of employees, who may be hired or fired at will, listen to the voice of their master and abide by his orders. Contractors who offer bids, material men who must sell their goods, dread the crack of the political whip and are compelled to come under the lash. A certain per cent has been demanded in the past for campaign purposes from those who receive pay from the machine."

Mr. Carswell declared that the state road machinery is dragged from one end of the state to the other, not for the purpose of best serving the highway needs of the people, but for political expediency.

"Doesn't common justice demand that the chairman resign from the board and stand or fall by his record rather than further destroy the faith of the people in this department?" he asked.

The speaker called attention to the report of State Auditor Sam J. Slate, which found fault with the system of accounting for the highway department by the department, and expended by the department, and urged every voter in the state to acquaint himself with that report.

While advocating care in the matter of bond issues, Mr. Carswell reiterated his faith in the judgment of the people and pledged if elected governor, to urge the legislature to submit a bond issue proposal to the electorate.

He deplored the present system of highway building, saying that some of the larger counties are taxing their own people to help those of the weaker counties.

"Counties should not be forced to match state and federal funds to build state and federal roads," he declared. "They should be free to spend county funds upon the county roads for the county people."

At the present rate of paving made by the highway department and with the system of a pat, a promise and a project, and spend as you stand, Stone Mountain will be carved on all sides and the sculptors will be looking for more mountains to conquer.

Georgia has a system of paved roads.

Every year 50,000 individuals enter our state hospitals for the insane. Fifty thousand in one year, one million in twenty years, while an untold number remain outside, who, perhaps not actually insane, are a burden and a vexation to themselves, a worry and a source of sorrow to their families and friends.

Of this multitude of people, in one generation, destined to lose so much of fullness of life, many can be saved through early recognition and remedial measures.

Habitual perversity, the tendency to do always the opposite thing, and to resist simple and sensible directions is significant. Bullying and its opposite of self-deprecation and self-doubt are both here their origin in a sense of inferiority, a mental state which presents serious dangers to mental equilibrium.

Tantrums are of serious import. Violent likes and dislikes, strange fears, a constant craving for excitement, disregard for the rights and feelings of others, lack of proper affections, sleep-walking, night-terrors, pining, persistent and useless lying and cruelty, are all conditions which require attention.

A lively imagination is a valuable asset, but the child loses his sense of reality in his imaginings and occupies himself either in exclusive day-dreaming or in useless and fantastic fabrication, the problem is a serious one.

It is just as important that symptoms of mental and nervous abnormality receive the attention of a physician who understands their import as that proper medical advice be sought in scarlet fever, tuberculosis, appendicitis, or any other serious disease.

SOME MORE LARGE BEETS. The Times received another fine specimen of beets Wednesday, two sent by Annie Moseley of Arcola. The largest weighed exactly two pounds.

PIERCE COUNTY GIRL IS CHOSEN "MISS GEORGIA"

At the Water Carnival in Savannah Tuesday evening, Miss Lora Dixon of Blackshear, was chosen as "Miss Georgia" to represent the state in the Sequelcentennial exposition in Philadelphia, to go as the guest of the Water Carnival Association. In the contest more than fifty Georgia counties were represented by their most beautiful young women, and the winner was selected as the most beautiful of the contestants.

BOOSTING BULLOCH

When the people of Bulloch county turned out in force Monday and won for the county queen the $100 cash prize for having the largest number of automobiles in the parade, they gave a boost to their home county.

With 292 cars in the parade, leading her nearest competitor by nearly three to one, Bulloch county went on record as being alive to the need of going along with her neighbors—and standing right at the front—in proclaiming to the world that she has confidence in herself and is glad to be considered as having ambitions worth while.

The little prize offered for the winner in the contest was not even a small item of consideration. It was purely for the love of winning and winning conspicuously that the people turned out energetically to carry off the prize.

Taking the actual count of 292 cars in the parade from Bulloch county, it is easily recognized that the actual cost to get each car there could not have been less than $5.00 for fuel and upkeep of the car. If you were to add a reasonable cost for wear and tear, the cost would easily reach $10 per car. Thus it will be seen that Bulloch county's participation in the parade cost around $2,900. It was worth that to be placed prominently in the front as a progressive county.

It was worth it to be recognized among the neighboring counties as desirous of their neighborliness and good will.

And the same is true of the counties that did not win. It is profitable to join in with one's neighbors in their enterprises, because it is profitable to be a neighbor and to be permitted to join in.

HIS PITCHER IS BROKEN.

Don Clark has carried his pitcher to the well one too often. The two men will rejoice that it has been broken and that they are not to be annoyed by this political pest again.

In making this last statement, we admit that it is only a prophecy. No one can say with any reasonable degree of certainty what Don Clark will do or say when he wants to. He may not realize that he has been sufficiently sat down upon, and it may be that he will try to gather up the broken fragments of his pitcher and make another trip to the well.

Twice Mr. Clark has entered himself as a candidate for congress and run himself as a republican, in spite of the fact that the regular machinery of the party had nominated a candidate in opposition to the democratic nominee. The showing Mr. Clark made in the race against Lee Moore was dismal enough to have dampened the ardor of any man except one who was after the actual cash allowed by congress for legitimate contestants or by an ambition to force himself upon the republican party as an official distributor. His showing before congress was so devoid of merit that a republican committee recognized it as a farce.

But Mr. Clark is not easily turned aside when he sets his mind, and his contest with Mr. Edwards in the very next campaign was even more rank and ridiculous than his race against Mr. Moore. The committee having the hearing of this contest reported their finding in these plain words:

"The Committee on Elections No. 2 in the present case not only finds that the present contest is not grounded in any merit, but also finds that the contestant is not acting with bona fides in bringing it; and it desires to announce to the House of Representatives that, unless otherwise directed by the House it will decline to authorize the payment by the Government in this case of any expense incurred by him in bringing the present contest."

UNCLE SAM'S ADVICE

In a government report reaching this office we are asked by Uncle Sam to broadcast a little timely advice to housewives. So we are giving it here word for word as it reaches us:

"Careful screening of windows and doors during the summer months, with supplementary use of sticky fly paper is one of the best protective measures known against house flies. Fly poisons are also helpful in eradicating the pests but arsenic preparations should be carefully handled and placed out of reach of children. A very effective fly poison is made by adding three teaspoonsful of commercial formalin to a pint of sweet milk or water sweetened with a little brown sugar. Flies feed on filth. Refuse and garbage from the kitchen should be burned when possible or placed in cans with tight lids. A fly is a small thing in the home, but it can carry and distribute enough germs to start a serious epidemic."

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

Once a lion was telling a leopard why he roared in the jungle. "Doing business openly and with plenty of advertising," the lion said, "is the only way I got my reputation. I earned the name of king of beasts by blowing my horn. Always let the other fellows know you are around and they will respect you and never bother you." A rabbit hiding nearby heard the advice and decided to try it. So he filled his lungs with a great breath and started out to terrorize all the other animals by roaring like a lion. A wolf, learning of the rabbit's whereabouts by his roar, hopped onto the rabbit and ate him up.

If you haven't got the goods there is no need in advertising. And if you don't advertise it's a pretty good sign that you haven't got the goods.

Some vacation spots are so quiet and peaceful you can rest there almost as well as you can at home.

FLORIDA MAKES PROGRESS TOWARD MOSQUITO CONTROL

(By Col Wm. D. Wrightson)

Progressive communities of Florida, realizing that mosquito eradication means in the way of health, comfort and prosperity, have begun to grapple with the problem in a comprehensive manner.

A law enacted at the last session of the Florida state legislature provides for the erection, in any county, of a mosquito control district, and prescribes a method for financing such districts.

The first mosquito control district to be erected under this law was Saint Lucie county, where a county-wide bond issue of $500,000 was voted recently. The project calls for a system of dikes along the shores of the Indian river through that county, preventing tidal overflow of thousands of acres of mangrove swamp and salt marshes, breeding places of the water mosquito. The work will require approximately eighteen months for completion.

Representatives from six cities of Palm Beach county met a little later and laid the ground work for a similar project in that county. Other counties along the Indian river are contemplating the organization of mosquito control districts in the near future.

Numerous cities of Florida conduct year-round campaigns to control pool and container breeding within their corporate limits. The more comprehensive district-wide eradication projects now planned show that eradication, rather than control is being sought.

As the great sweep of population into Florida and other southern states continues, the importance of the eradication work done by General William G. Gorgas in Cuba and Panama will be more generally recognized. Had it not been for his great work this migration would not have been possible. The fear of yellow fever would have deterred it.

Malaria can be controlled in the South by the method used by Gorgas in the tropics, and until comprehensive projects are undertaken to eradicate the malaria mosquitoes, the influx of population into mosquito-infested areas presents one of the most serious problems in the development of the state.

One tourist carrying malaria through a mosquito-infested district will spread a stream of infection from one end of the district to the other. The State Board of Health and other organizations are doing effective sanitary and control work, but there are many communities which have not yet undertaken any measures for the control of mosquitoes.

One of the most striking demonstrations of the effect of mosquito eradication, ever seen in this country, resulted from work carried on by the State Board of Health in Perry, Taylor county, Florida, in 1920-21, at a cost of $28,000. The work was financed by public subscription. Mosquitoes were 90% eliminated and great improvements noted, not only in the general health but in the business and industry of the community. Eradication not only stopped a wholesale migration from the county, but increased the health and efficiency of adults and school children, and added greatly to the industrial and agricultural production of the county.

What was done in Cuba and Panama by General Gorgas and in Perry by the State Board of Health can be done in other progressive communities of the South.

DUTY TO OUR SCHOOL

DISCUSSED BY OLLIFF

Patriotism is loyalty. Loyalty involves love for and defense of home country, liberty and life itself. The extremely selfish citizen is often a real patriot. He loves his home and defends it. He is loyal to his country and supports his government; he appreciates his liberty but does not abuse it. But all citizens are selfish. Selfishness is justifiable to the extent that such selfishness results in the love of your own home and the essential family protection. This same selfishness must continue further that it is not harmful; it must cover pride in one's county and institutions, which, if they prosper, causes one's self to prosper with them. The reputation of your county and your state or your section of the state helps or retards you in your pursuit of prosperity and happiness.

We of southeast Georgia claim that we are patriotic and loyal as citizens of the state or nation. We would immediately resent any insinuation to the contrary. Will we prove our claim to loyalty? Will it be said of us, "You could, but you would not?"

Let us see. We have now for the first time in our entire history a citizen in Southeast Georgia, for the citizens of Southeast Georgia, which fills a long-held need of the people of this section, a section which comprises about two-fifths of the entire state, and I dare say furnishes the colleges of the state and the South with a percentage of college students as any other similar section according to population in the entire state. Since the creation of the Georgia Normal College at Statesboro, it is a duty and privilege of the citizens of this section to support and boost this institution until it surpasses all other such institutions in the South, and we must.

Prospective normal or college students of this section, do not for a single moment hesitate to take advantage of the opportunities now being offered by the Georgia Normal College at Statesboro. When we had a college of our own in our territory, we naturally had to go where the colleges were. Now we have one near us that will give us just as good training as can be gotten elsewhere, and certainly we are going to take proper care of our young, strong and healthy institutions. You can attend the Georgia Normal for less cost and will get more out of it. This is one strong point in its favor. Another is its convenience to the vast territory it is created to serve.

A faculty of able, energetic, thoughtful and practical professors who are determined to render the most efficient service possible. This is the school for your girls and boys. Help us make it grow and save for yourself the heavy expense, and at the same time, get for your children as good training as can be secured elsewhere in the state.

Let us support our normal college. Respectfully,
B. R. OLLIFF, C. S. S.

Slats' Diary

(By Ross Farquhar)

Friday—well we fellows has got a good joke on Blisters. He sat Eley to go canewing with him this evening, & she sed well mebbey she mite. She sed to him Will you promise to not to try & hit me like a lot of the fellows do now days. So Blisters promised. But when the time cum why she went with Pug Stevens, & cum to find out about it why Pug woudent promise emmy suchy thing. So the joke was on Ted after all was sed and done.

Saturday—Aint Emmy says she woud be afraide to get on 1 of those fairy boats like they have on rivers at New York and ect, becuz she cud never tell wich was the front end or the back end of them. Mr. Gillem says that is easy. The end where most of the fokes is standing is the front end. Then the other end is the back end of the boat.

Sunday—The Sunday school teach-ard Jake give her a 3 ter ward him weds wickness. Jake sed he might anser it if he woud tell him whether she ment a Verticle or Horizontal.

Munday—I was asting pa what they ment when they speak of Auto Siggester. He sed it was what made him cud never tell wich was the front end of a cupple yrs ago when ma suggested it.

Tuesday—Bert Dirkle cum pritty near getting married a cupple mo. He was telling pa tonite. He sed he was proposing to his girl which name was Elizabeth and just when he was in the interesting part of the proposal why he called her Irene. So that was the end of it as far as he was concerned.

Wednesday—Pa was reading about a new indoor golf ball wich has ben invented that will only travel a few feet. He says that aint nothing new he has ben trying these kind of golf balls ever since he begun to try to play golf.

Thursday—Mrs. Gillem ast me & Jake to go to the train and meet her uncle wich is coming to visit her. We sed we was afraide we woudent no hit. She sed he looks like the very image of his brother that dyed a few yrs. ago.

MRS. MARY LEGGET.
Mrs. Mary Legget, formerly of Bulloch county, died Thursday at Vidalia, where she had made her home for several years. Internment was in East Side cemetery Friday afternoon, July 2nd. Deceased was the mother of L. L. Wilson of this place, with whom she made her home for a long time before going to Vidalia. She is also survived by two brothers, A. J. Waters and J. S. Waters of this county, besides other relatives.

The Headache That Comes From the Spine

THURSDAY'S HEALTH TALK

By J. M. Burgess, D. C.

Upon being told that Chiropractic spinal adjustments secure results in headaches, deafness, eye troubles and other troubles entirely within the skull, the average person wonders how the spine can have anything to do with the head.

He reasons that the nerves come from the brain downward, and not up, which is true. He fails to take into account, however, the sympathetic nervous system, which might be likened to the return wire in an electric circuit. Just what the internal action in such a case is, none can say for it is a living force with which we deal and the dissection room cannot reveal its secrets. Certain it is, however, that thousands of people have found that—however it may be—spinal adjustments do get results in head troubles.

His Headaches Ended
"For some years I have suffered with headaches over my right eye and at the same time I was always nervous. I could not concentrate my mind on any one thing for days at a time. Having heard of Chiropractic I decided to see what it could do in my case. After taking adjustments for several weeks I feel that my nervousness has gone entirely and I am now able to go out and hustle at my daily toil. I have also found that Chiropractic is the best thing in the world for headaches as my headaches have entirely disappeared."—Ralph E. Larson, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2186-L.

NEW COTTON PEST HAS ENTERED GEORGIA

COTTON HOPPER AND THRIPS JOIN BOLL WEEVIL IN EFFORT TO DEVOUR COTTON CROP.
The cotton hopper has appeared in large numbers over the greater part of the cotton area of the state and is reported as doing serious injury to the cotton plants. The characteristic symptoms of plants affected by this insect is their straight spindly appearance with the very few lateral branches. The young squares are attacked and these turn brown and soon drop from the plant. The insects may be found by walking through the cotton fields and shaking the plants. They are very small greenish-yellow insects which fly very rapidly and are hard to catch. They may sometimes be found in the edges of the upper leaves of the stalk. The best control measure for the cotton hopper is a dust of superfine flowers of sulphur, applied at the rate of 6 to 8 pounds per acre at intervals of 5 days. It may be necessary to make three or more applications, and the field should be examined between applications to determine whether or not the insects have been killed. Sulphur should be applied with an ordinary dusting machine, preferably early in the morning when there is little or no breeze and when the cotton plants are covered with dew. If you are dusting for the boll weevil, mix 2 pounds of sulphur with 1 pound of calcium arsenate and dust at the rate of 9 or 10 pounds to the acre. So far this year very few weevils have appeared and where they are not present the sulphur should be used alone, as calcium arsenate will not control the cotton hopper. The cotton plants brought to this office, supposedly affected by the cotton hopper, have shown an injury different from that generally attributed to this insect. Upon examination these plants were found to be heavily infested with a species of thrips. The characteristic injury due to this insect is a severe stunting and curling of the tender buds and a general dwarfing of the tops of the plants. This thrips is a very minute insect scarcely visible to the naked eye but under a glass it may be seen as a swiftly moving, slender, yellowish or white insect. They secrete themselves between the bud scales where they occur in large numbers and seriously injure the plants by sucking the juices. The best control for the thrips is a dust of 3% nicotine sulphate and to control both the thrips and the cotton hopper we suggest that a mixture of 1 pound of nicotine dust with 2 pounds of sulphur, applied at the rate of 9 or 10 pounds to the acre. Three or more applications will be necessary to control both of these insects. Sulphur may be purchased at $2.50 to $2.75 a hundred pounds and 3% nicotine dust around $18.00 a hundred pounds. While these insecticides may be rather expensive, we believe the farmers will find it well worth the investment to control these insects as they will probably do serious damage if they are not checked.

This Advertisement Does Not Ask You to Buy Anything!
IT IS A STATEMENT OF FACTS WHICH ANSWERS MANY QUESTIONS WE HAVE BEEN ASKED.

Up to June 1st, this year the total number of tags bought for passenger cars in Bulloch county, as taken from the records of the Secretary of State, was.....	1614
Of this number, total FORDS.....	1262
Total of other cars in so-called "Pony Class".....	121
All other cars.....	231
The percentage of FORDS is almost.....	80%
The car with the next highest percentage is less than.....	8%
Trucks FORD.....	139
All others including "makeshift" (second-hand cars).....	22
Last month (May) FORDS registered.....	84
Next highest.....	7
All others.....	7

The records show less "orphan" cars than there have been for several years. One car popular here several years ago has not a single registration so far this year.
Twenty-eight manufacturers are making 97% of the cars in the United States. Five manufacturers are making 90% of the total.
LAST YEAR We sold fifty odd more cars than in any other year in spite of the well known fact that we had no cars during two of the busiest months of the year.
THIS YEAR to June 1st, our sales of new cars are 40% larger than for the same period last year.

The UNSEEN SOIL
Dark garments, worn for weeks or months, accumulate a surprising amount of soil that is apparent only when removed by the solvents that we use in cleaning them.
The detrimental effect of soil on light washable fabrics when left in them for some time is easily seen. Soil is no less injurious to heavy dark garments.
For economic and sanitary reasons, all soil should be removed from white garments before storing for the long summer.

A REAL HEROINE
Edith May Adams of Harrington, N. J., the first American School girl to be entered as a candidate for the American Youth Award. The American Youth and Teacher Award was established by the Board of Directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia as a tribute to the youth and teachers of the nation. Miss Adams is a candidate for the Golden Eagle, the highest gift in the hands of the Girl Scouts. She was cited recently for exceptional bravery for remaining inside a blazing building helping physicians to give first aid treatment to injured firemen.

PRONUNCIATION AID
June Webster, descendant of the famous lexicographer Noah Webster, presents a copy of her ancestor's work to the Publicity Department of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition Association to help them in pronouncing properly the name of the big events which open June 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. There are many types of pronunciations heard but there is just one proper way Noah says. It is "See Kwah-sen-ten-ah-uhl" with the accent on the first syllable of the "Sesqui" and on the second syllable of the "centennial."

Indigestion
bad spells relieved
"NOTHING can take the place of Theford's Black-Draught with us because we have never found anything at once so mild and so effective," says Mrs. Hugh Nichols, R. F. D. 4, Princeton, Ky. "When the children have spells of indigestion and upset stomachs, I always straighten them out with a dose or two of Black-Draught."
"Several times I have suffered with bad spells of indigestion myself and found I would soon get relief if I took a course of Black-Draught. I was troubled with a bad accumulation of gas and severe pains across my stomach and lower bowels. Now when I feel a spell of this kind coming on, I head it off by taking Black-Draught—a dose every night for a few nights will prevent the trouble and save me much pain and suffering."
"My whole family uses Black-Draught for biliousness and constipation. It is a splendid medicine." Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

SENATOR GEORGE HAS A RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

HOLDS PLACE IN THE SENATE WHICH BRINGS HONOR TO THE PEOPLE OF GEORGIA.

(Macon Telegraph.)

In today's letter column, a gentleman (giving his name), asks what Senator George has done for the taxpayers of Georgia. That is a fairly simple question, if one is interested only in the taxpayers side of it. Senator George was among the Democratic leaders who forced the republican leaders to increase the amount of reduction on income taxes from $300,000,000 to almost $400,000,000, making it unnecessary that those of smaller incomes make any return at all. Upon his return to the senate, Senator George was in position to aid mightily in forcing another reduction of federal income taxes, since he is on the powerful finance committee of the senate.

Senator George was among the Southern senators who voted against the equalization law on cotton, which would have meant that cotton farmers would have had to pay a fee to the government on every pound of cotton they sold so that the surplus might be dumped in foreign markets for whatever it might bring, merely to rid the cotton market of the surplus. Senator George, in collaboration with Senator George, who is in the cotton industry, has been able to prevent the equalization law from being passed, which would have meant that cotton farmers would have had to pay a fee to the government on every pound of cotton they sold so that the surplus might be dumped in foreign markets for whatever it might bring, merely to rid the cotton market of the surplus.

This year all agricultural, live stock, and swine exhibits will be restricted to farms of Georgia and South Carolina. Six years' experience with quality of exhibits from farmers in these two states has convinced the management that products of this section equal if not surpass those from distant parts of the country. Many money paid will go to exhibitors who would not have to travel ten days to reach Savannah. This change is thought surely to be welcomed by those who take pride in seeing their products or stock compared with those of neighboring territory.

Shortly, the premium list will be of the press and ready for distribution through county agents, chambers of commerce and school superintendents. This year's book will be much more complete in every department, and will be profusely illustrated with pictures of prize-winning county exhibits, and activities at the fair. Many advertisements of national manufacturers will make the book quite attractive. These were obtained by E. T. Sheffall, advertising manager.

A. W. Morehouse, past president, and W. A. Johnson, past vice president, were honored at the last directors' meeting when Frank M. Oliver, Esq., presented a motion picture of the directors two handsome gladstone bags. Mr. Morehouse was the fair's first president who relinquished the reins to Mr. Jones because of his moving to Florida. Mr. Johnson is known as "daddy of the fair," being chairman of the committee that started the movement here in 1919.

The average man's life is now divided between worry over two tubes—radio and inner.

It is by the power of their minds that men achieve, not by the idle utterance of words for home consumption. Cole Blaise gets more publicity than any man in the state, because he has an infinite capacity of making a monkey of himself, yet he is paid less attention than any other man in the state, unless it be Heflin of Alabama. Senator George does not engage in demagoguery. If the people of the state want idle talking vainglorious boasting, bloody shirt waving and simon pure hot air junk, they should turn to Heflin.

He has been in the senate only three years. In that time he has come to be considered the leading democratic mind and a democratic presidential possibility who may be able, through his personality and his mind, to break down the prejudice against a southern nominee. No man who has gone to the senate from Georgia in many years has been able to do that. With the added power that endorsement of the people has given him, Senator George will be able to do for Georgia infinitely more than he has been able to do during his novitiate and that has not been inconsiderable. If he has done nothing else, he has centered the eyes of America upon this new statesman of the south who is worthy the

BULLOCH'S DIVERSIFIED CROPS

Today the farmers of Bulloch county are engaged in the harvesting of their watermelons.

Thirty days ago they were shipping Irish potatoes in carlots. Thirty days hence they will be selling their tobacco, and immediately following that will come their biggest crop—cotton.

Every month in the year they get cash from their corn, their poultry, their livestock and their miscellaneous products.

It has come to be the custom to think only of cotton as a money crop in most of the counties of Georgia, but it is not the only crop of importance in Bulloch.

Three years' report showed that Bulloch county produced in excess of 51,000 bales of cotton, but this year perhaps he will produce more. The crop was estimated at 500,000 pounds to the bale and 20 cents per pound, the crop was worth to Bulloch county $2,100,000 for the lint alone. Add to this the value of the seed, and the total is brought up to $4,000,000.

But with that the cotton crop is not Bulloch's only source of revenue.

Bulloch county ranks near the head of the list of Georgia counties in the production of watermelons. In one of her high peaks years she shipped 1,300. This year she is shipping less than that, and her crop the present year will perhaps be more than 300 cars. Today they are selling at $150 per car in this city. It is not a wild guess to estimate the value of the present year's crop at $45,000.

Last year for the first time the farmers of Bulloch turned their attention to the growing of tobacco. It was a bad year throughout the entire county, but in Bulloch it was as bad as any of the other sections. It was made much worse by the fact that the crop can be grown at a profit, and our farmers are giving more serious consideration to tobacco as a money crop.

And we mentioned the Irish potato crop, harvested thirty days ago. This reporter visited the farm of J. A. Bunce while the harvesting was at its height. There were fifty odd workers in the fields at Mr. Bunce's place gathering potatoes and more than a carload were gathered and shipped on that one day. Mr. Bunce planted twelve acres in potatoes and sold his entire crop locally by contract to A. Dorman, the produce man. He received payment in check for the marketable part of his crop, and that check was for $3,200. Figure that and you will see that the income was approximately $260 per acre from Irish potatoes.

Near Mr. Bunce's farm there was another farmer, a new-comer to Bulloch county, J. A. Marx, who likewise had faith in potato production. While he planted on a somewhat less scale, due to conditions which arose at planting time, he produced as fine potatoes as were ever seen in Bulloch county. His farm is that formerly known as the "General Lee" place, later owned by W. S. Prentiss. Mr. Marx came to Bulloch county last fall from Altoona, Pennsylvania, and was in search of what he saw that he located here and because he had heard of the success of the potato crop in Bulloch county and for the people of the county, and he never let an opportunity to say a word in praise of conditions here. In conversation a few days ago with this reporter, he declared his intention to join extensively with his neighbors next year in the growing of Irish potatoes. He told us that an active movement is being inaugurated for the planting of a large acreage, and he confidently expects the planting of such crops to be a hundred acres in the county.

All of which is in line to emphasize the point stated at the outset of this article—that Bulloch county is no longer a strictly cotton growing county. Almost every month in the year carlots of corn are being shipped out of the county. It has been said that there is not a county in Georgia that ships as much corn as Bulloch. In the Savannah Morning News recently there were given some interesting figures pertaining to Bulloch county's resources. This data was for the preceding year and is as follows: "Two hundred ten carloads of hogs and cattle brought $265,000; sales from chickens and turkeys $200,000; cured 150,000 pounds of hams and shoulders at local packing plant of a value of $45,000; cured 750,000 pounds of hams, shoulders and bacon at home of a value of $225,000; fifteen carloads of sweet potatoes sold for $6,000; 100 cars surplus corn brought $30,000; 100 carloads of watermelons brought $20,000; 100 carloads of paper shell peanuts brought $30,000; sales of beans, peanuts, cream, goats and other side products netted $600,000."

Bulloch county is suited for the production of truck crops in competition with any other sections of the country; her soil is fertile and her climate is congenial. She can't compete with the tropical countries in the growing of bananas, oranges, pineapples and citrus fruits, though there are bearing orange trees in the county and banana trees in the county.

There are growing in the county a few things we cannot grow here, but the many things we can grow so far outweigh those we cannot, that Bulloch easily ranks as the equal of any section in the United States in the opportunities offered for making a livelihood from the soil.

There was on this writer's table this very day bread made from wheat grown and milled within five miles of Statesboro. Wheat can be grown here as well as the states of the middle west.

There are growing in the county two of the most important crops of the state. In adjoining fields in West Statesboro, Sheriff Mallard and his brother-in-law, Josh Smith, are competing for the Georgia championship in corn growing with excellent prospects for winning the $1,000 prize. These two farmers, following the lead of experience in former years, have planted on lands which had been used as cow pastures the winter before. Today in each field the corn is standing twelve to fifteen feet tall in rows five feet apart and 7 to 8 inches in the drill. One of these fields is figured to have 17,000 stalks to the acre and the other around 14,000. In the field with the 14,000 stalks to the acre it is told us that many of the stalks have five ears; none less than three, and an average of four. Take that as a basis and the acre will yield 56,000 ears of corn. One hundred ears of good corn are said to sell at a bushel. Suppose you put 200 ears of this corn to the bushel, you will find that you are counting on 280 bushels of corn per acre. Cut that in half just for safety, and you will find that a farmer in Statesboro is growing 140 bushels of corn to the acre on a five-acre tract right here in the city of Statesboro.

Two years ago on the identical lands under the exact cultivation conditions now being met, the young son of Sheriff Mallard grew 148 bushels and 11 pounds of corn on an acre and won the state championship in the boys' corn contest. A gentleman from Wisconsin, visiting in Statesboro a few days ago, was amazed when he viewed these two fields of growing corn. "It beats anything I have ever seen," was his observation.

No, Bulloch county is not dependent on cotton for her cash income. She is a county suited to a diversity of crops.

FACULTY IS COMPLETED FOR STATESBORO SCHOOLS

Announcement is made of the completion of the faculty for the Statesboro High School for the ensuing year. Few changes are made in the faculty. R. M. Monte, who has been at the head of the school for nine consecutive years, continues as superintendent. The members of the faculty are as follows:

Intermediate and Grammar Grades
First Grade—Miss Mattie Lively and Miss Malrose Davis.

Second Grade—Miss Louise Hughes and Miss Nannie Beasley.

Third Grade—Miss Minnie Wells and Miss Katherine Lane.

Fourth Grade—Miss Pearl Tedder and Miss Agnes Atkinson.

Fifth Grade—Miss Sadie Duffey and Mrs. C. E. Wollett.

Sixth Grade—Miss Sallie Zetterover and Miss Sallie Mae Price.

Seventh Grade—Miss Julia Adams and Miss May Nelson.

High School

Miss Lila Griffin, English and civics; Miss Ruby Crawford, French and biology; Miss Mary Lou Carmichael, history; Mrs. D. L. Deal, English; Miss Naomi Parker, mathematics; Miss Elma Wimbly, science and mathematics; Mr. E. C. Wollett, science; Latin teacher to be supplied.
